Activity Name: Day of the Dead Shadow Box

Description: The Mexican holiday, Dia de Muertos, is traditionally celebrated on November 1 and 2 and is a happy occasion to honor ancestors. A shadow box or Nicho, is a way to remember a special person to display for the holiday or year-round. We'll create a small Mexican/Southwest themed Nicho for your chosen honoree. Maybe Frida Kahlo? A kit fee of $5 cash will be collected in class in addition to the course registration fee.

Please bring the following supplies:

- Scissors, pencil, ruler
- Flat paint brush for acrylic paints
- Liquid glue
- Glue stick
- 3 1/8 x 1 7/8 images or photos of your chosen honoree(s) Note: Tim Holtz mini paper doll images work well and a few will be available if you are unable to find suitable photos/images.

Optional Items:

- Glitter-glue, Stickles
- Round paint brush to paint flowers/leaves
